

Time Travel Website Concept

Landing Page

The landing page can have a time-travel-inspired background with elements such as clocks, clock hands, gears, particles, and subtle portal effects to establish the theme from the beginning.

Navigation & Page Transitions

The main idea is that every page transition should feel like travelling through time rather than simply loading a new page.

Home → Events

- A clock appears on the screen.
- The clock hands spin rapidly forward.
- The screen cracks or distorts.
- A portal opens.
- The user transitions into the Events page.

Events → Home

- A clock appears on the screen.
- The clock hands move backwards.
- The portal opens again.
- The user transitions back to the Home page.

Events → Schedule

- The clock appears.
- The hands spin forward.
- A portal opens.
- The user transitions to the Schedule page.

The same concept can be used for all other pages as well.

Key Idea

The website should not just look time-travel themed; it should feel time-travel themed. Every click and page change should give users the feeling that they are moving through time via clocks, portals, and temporal effects, creating a more immersive and memorable experience.
